By the Numbers*

*2015-16 Academic Year

Enrollment

- 1,280 Undergraduate
  - 23% Women
  - Largest undergraduate Society of Women Engineers chapter in U.S.

Graduate Students: 556
PhD Students: 34%
Women in Graduate Programs: 28%

Avg Starting Salary: $64,141

Highest Offer: $124,000

2015-2016 Academic Year

Research

Funding

Total $17 Million (FY14)

63% funded by Private Industry

Focus Areas

- Rare Earths & Critical Minerals
- Micro/Nano Pore Scale Studies
- Corporate Social Responsibility
- Energy Economics & Policy
- Underground Construction & Tunneling
- Unconventional & Conventional Resources/Energy
- Scientific Visualization

Miscellaneous Facts

- 87 Faculty
- 11 Chaired Professors
- 30 - Average ACT Composite
- 1320 - Average SAT

- #1 Engineering School in USA Today's 2015 Top 10 Engineering Colleges in US
- #2 State School for Starting Salary from Payscale

In addition to the 6 departments above, the Colorado Geological Survey is also a part of CERSE. There are numerous research opportunities for both undergraduate and graduate students to work with CGS during their study.